The Suffolk Redevelopment and Housing Authority and the Suffolk Workforce Development Center will host the Suffolk Job & Career Fair from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. July 22 at King's Fork Middle School.

Job seekers will have access to employers seeking talented candidates. Several employers and employment resource organizations will be participating in this free event. No registration is required for job seekers, who should plan to dress professionally and bring resumes.

Among the participating employers announced so far are Walmart, Nexcom, Hampton Roads Transit, Virginia Department of Transportation, Smithfield Foods, International Paper, Wells Fargo and the Suffolk Police Department.
